

Chilingham Road Primary School

Detail of a series of stained glass panels using a combination of sandblasted flashed glass and glass enamel photo transfers. The project was done in collaboration with textile artist Claire Satow, who made banners for the school hall. We worked with the children to create a set of characters and a story. These images ran through the glass panels and connected with the banners.

